THE ENTERPRISE INFRASTRUCTURE TRACEABILITY PROGRAM

Traceability/product tracing is the ability to follow the movement of a food through specified stage(s) of production, processing and distribution. It can be limited to critical points along the supply chain (e.g. livestock), or be “full-chain” from farm to fork (e.g. meat and fresh produce).

The objective of the Enterprise Infrastructure Traceability (EIT) Program is to have increased implementation of facility-based traceability systems across the agri-food chain in primary and secondary agri-food production sectors.

Success of the program will be measured by the number of on-farm and post-farm businesses having implemented traceability initiatives, by commodity or industry groups (as per the North American Industry Classification System).

EIT Program will assist producers/farmers, food processors and agri-food businesses by assisting with specific costs relating to the purchase and installation of traceability infrastructure, and the training of staff to implement traceability systems for plants, animals and agri-food products.

The EIT is part of Growing Forward, a federal-provincial-territorial initiative. For more information on Growing Forward, please visit www.agr.gc.ca.
GLOSSARY OF TERMS:

Activity Report: The final report you will submit when your activities are completed with the required information asked in the application form.

Applicant: Someone in primary or secondary agri-food sector applying to the Enterprise Infrastructure Traceability Program and has met all of the eligibility requirements.

Application Package: Contains a completed application form, proof of farm status or licence number for provincially registered applicants, and any other supporting documents for the application form.

Approval Letter: The document the applicant will receive from ARDCorp, describing the terms and conditions under which the applicant’s specific project would be approved for EIT cost-sharing. This will include start dates and deadlines, a list of requirements for reporting, and identify the allowed spending limits and approved activities.

ARDCorp: Agricultural Research and Development Corporation is the delivery agent of the EIT Program. ARDCorp is not an expert in assessing or developing traceability programs, nor are they an expert in food safety.

BC AGRi: British Columbia Ministry of Agriculture

Consultant: a qualified practitioner who has appropriate training and experience in providing technical advice in enterprise traceability

EIT: Enterprise Infrastructure Traceability Program.

Eligibility for EIT Program: A BC producer, food processor, auction marts, or distribution centres and farm or industry organizations working with food for human consumption, has a valid HST number, proof of current farm status or a current licence number if a provincially registered facility.

Eligible Activities: Activities that assist producers undertake a traceability program set-up on their farm concluding in a successful certification. They can include (but are not limited to) addressing or working on items/activities identified on the individual gap analysis portion of their work plan, consultation services, purchase and installation of equipment, and audit activities to verify the implementation of the chosen traceability program.

Expenditures or Activities: The services or activities to be carried out by the applicant to objectives of their work plan.

Gap Analysis: A document identifying the gaps of an individual applicants’ system that need to be addressed before being recognized as a traceability system showing flow of information.

Incremental: a direct result of the project undertaken.
Ineligible Activities: systems for non-food products, including pet foods, fish and shellfish production, restaurants and retail food service operations.

NAICS Code: A 5-digit NAICS code is required. A complete category listing of NAICS categories can be seen at http://www.statcan.gc.ca/concepts/industry-industrie-eng.htm or in Schedule I of this document.

For example, to report performance of programming aimed at the sheep sector, the NAICS coding:

Sector 11 - Agriculture, Forestry, Fishing and Hunting (2 digit level)
  112 - Animal Production (3 digit level)
  1124 - Sheep and Goat Farming (4 digit level)
  11241 - Sheep Farming (5 digit level)

On-site consultation: A visit by an identified consultant to help a producer assess their traceability needs and plan improvements to their system to achieve a new or improved traceability system.

Traceability: is the ability to follow the movement of a food through specified stage(s) of production, processing and distribution.

Work Plan: a detailed description of your intended activities identifying all of the requirements listed on the application form.

ELIGIBLE ACTIVITIES AND COSTS

Examples include (but are not limited to):

1. Purchase and installation of hardware for traceability systems:
   - RFID or barcode readers
   - Dedicated computer user terminals
   - label printers
   - wireless or wired connectivity within the enterprise

2. Incremental costs for lease/rental/purchase of a computer where the operation has no previous computer

3. Purchase and installation of software to gather, store, process, report and track information with respect to individual agri-food products within the enterprise (e.g. herd management software, harvest management software that is linked to individual product identification)

4. Purchase, installation, testing/acceptance or equipment and/or system

5. Staff training by vendor (preferred) or approved consultant to implement traceability systems within the enterprise
   Note: If no training is identified (by vendors or consultant), the applicant must provide justification to ARDCorp’s satisfaction as to why there is no training identified.

6. Consultant fees for assessing, planning and/or implementing your EIT project
Activities and Costs eligible for the EIT (traceability) funding are as described in the Application Guidelines and in the Application. It is the Applicant’s responsibility to establish to the satisfaction of ARDCorp that costs are eligible and directly attributable to the Project. Final determination of eligibility of costs for reimbursement is the sole discretion of ARDCorp.

Note: Spending is only eligible for EIT funding after ARDCorp has received and approved in writing your request(s) for funding.

There are three funding caps within the categories of items eligible for reimbursement by the program. They are $18,000 for equipment/software (including installation, testing/acceptance of systems and office computer), and $5,000 for consulting & training (by a consultant or vendor). Within the cap for equipment/software, there is another cap of $1,000 for computers being used as a data management computer (office computer) rather than a dedicated computer system as an integral component of a traceability system on a production line. The maximum reimbursed by the program is $20,000.

INELIGIBLE ACTIVITIES AND COSTS

Examples include (but are not limited to):

1. Purchase of ear tags and other unique identifiers.
2. Fees or payments for on-going traceability services paid to external suppliers.
3. Purchase of packaging equipment or materials.
4. Costs that are a normal part of business operation.
5. Capital costs (such as vehicles, furnishings, land and buildings).
6. Purchases not directly related to implementation of a traceability system within an enterprise.
7. In-house activities, including training and administration.
8. Costs being reimbursed under an existing government program.
9. Costs incurred prior to receiving approval of your application from ARDCorp.
WHO MAY APPLY?

*Note: Federally registered establishments are now considered eligible to receive funding under this program.

Eligible Applicants include:

Participation in EIT program is available to BC agricultural producers, food processors and other agri-food businesses subject to meeting one of the following criteria:
- Farmers in British Columbia directly involved in growing/producing agricultural crops including harvesting, sorting, grading, washing or packaging product or raising livestock intended for human consumption, or
- Businesses operating a processing facility, auction marts, distribution centers and farm or industry organizations.

Ineligible Applicants include:

- fish and shellfish producers or processors
- pet food producers or processors
- restaurants
- retail food service operations
- current or former federal public office holders or federal public servants who are not in compliance with the Conflict of Interest and Post-Employment Code for Public Office Holders or the Conflict of Interest and Post-members of the House of Commons or of the Senate

FUNDING

The funding pool is split into 2 equal amounts of 45% budget for each with 10% held back until May 31st; after which time the funding pool limits are removed and the remainder of program funds allocated over remaining applications on a first come, first served basis.
- The first pool is for projects requesting $7,500 and less.
- The second pool is for projects requesting $7,500 or more with cap of $20,000.

Applicants would be treated on a first come, first served basis within each funding pool. Every application would still only receive funding for 75% of their eligible costs.

Funding will be provided to reimburse only incremental, eligible costs directly related to your EIT Program activities. Incremental means the spending is as a direct result of the project undertaken. The cost share ratio is 75:25 (25 being the producer contribution). The program will reimburse 75% of all eligible expenses up to a maximum of $20,000 per applicant (e.g. 75% of $26,667).

ARDCorp will assess the eligibility of proposed Activities and Expenses as per pre-established Growing Forward criteria.

All amounts in this Agreement shall be in Canadian funds.
APPLICATION PROCESS

Step 1. Obtain an application form for Enterprise Infrastructure Traceability (EIT) Program and complete as per instructions and this Guide. You can find one at the website (www.ardcorp.ca) or at our office (address below).

Step 2. Submit entire Application Package to ARDCorp. Packages can be submitted either by fax to (604) 854-4485, or by email to application@ardcorp.ca.

(fax or email only: NO couriers, mail or in-person.)

Packages received by the office between March 30th and April 6th, 2012 will be assigned a file number and all will be treated as if received at the same time on April 6th. All packages received between March 30th and April 6th will be pulled for review based on a random number generator.

Anything received before that time will be returned to the applicant with the instruction they will have to re-submit March 30th.

Step 3. ARDCorp will review the application package in a timely manner and respond to the applicant as to the approval status. Approval letters will be mailed to the address provided in the application form. This letter will include any pertinent deadlines, and indicate the allowed spending limits and approved activities.

Any application found to be incomplete for minor reasons will remain “in the queue” for 5 business days, and communications will be sent to the applicant that if the file is not completed by then, their application will be rejected for funding consideration. Any file found to be incomplete for major reasons (i.e. no work plan is attached, no budget breakdown, etc), will be rejected automatically for funding consideration.

Step 4. Once you have received your approval letter, you may begin your project as per your submitted work plan.

Work cannot begin until approval is given to the project. If work is started prior to the approval date, the project will be ineligible for funding under this program.

Step 5. When you have completed your project, you need to submit your final budget reports, all expense claims and their supporting receipts, and a description of work done. All submissions of claims for reimbursement must be complete in one package. Multiple claims packages will not be accepted (unless prior approval from ARDCorp has been given). Final report and claim information is described in the Guide section “Claim for Reimbursement”.

Once their request is received, ARDCorp will notify them in writing of receipt of their request and outline the next steps of the process.

Ultimately, the request for review and the items required for examination will be reviewed by representatives from the BC Ministry of Agriculture and Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada. Once a decision is made, the applicant will be notified, in writing, of their decision.

If the applicant is still dissatisfied with the results, they can request a review by the Management Committee.
